

I feel very strongly that telemarketing should be outlawed outright. This is a marketing method that preys on the elderly and the lonely.

I also feel that it is the less than ethical businesses who use this form of marketing. When I receive a telemarketing call, I tend to think of a business who cannot legitimately get enough clients, or who is deceitful.

This marketing method is extremely annoying and invasive. There is no reason that in the 21st Century that we should have to live this way.

Thank your for the opportunity to comment.